How to become a Master Builder

A Master Builder is a Brother who is actively involved with the present work of his Lodge, his involvement and Legacy will help build the future of his Lodge and Community. Every brother that successfully completes nine of the eleven steps in this blueprint will receive an award. The first 10 successful applications will be awarded a special limited edition Grand Master's jacket.* This jacket will be emblazoned with the Masonic Square and Compass and contain the words, "Master Builder" along with your name. So how can you qualify? Keep reading. Here are the specific criteria that you need to complete to become an official "Master Builder." **

1. Recruit at least one new member and be the top line signer on his petition for the degrees of Masonry. The prospective member must receive the Entered Apprentice degree prior to August 15, 2017 for this requirement to be met. (Consider using the tools that are available, such as the Prospect Prompter, Ten Reasons to Become a Mason and the Invitation to Petition to attract new members.)

2. Participate and effectively handle one or more ritual parts in each of the three degrees in your lodge prior to August 15, 2016, OR assist another lodge in conferring their degree work.

3. Being a Mentor builds bonds between Brothers that last a life time. You are asked to personally provide the educational guidance for at least one new Mason (preferably the new brother who joined in step 1 above.)

4. Assume responsibility to personally participate in visiting a potential member and discovering his values, wants and suitability for joining the Fraternity.

5. Assume responsibility and participate in planning at least one event for the lodge that includes widows and/or families and/or candidates for Masonry. (Review "Ten Steps to Lodge Renewal" for ideas.)

6. There are Brothers who have lost contact with the Lodge for a variety of reasons, who if asked can be reactivated and engaged. By extending the hand of Brotherly Fellowship we invite them to become involved. After revisiting the Lodge and becoming reacquainted with the traditions and members of the Lodge they will find it easier to return and be a participating member.

7. Participate in a Lodge event or project, or assist in a volunteer program to benefit youth. Consider working through a local school—such as being a volunteer. (An example would be going to a school to read (or listen to a student read to you) for a specified amount of time each visit for a specified duration of time (usually six to ten weeks). Other examples include: assisting with a scholarship program, coaching a youth athletic team, working with a Masonic youth organization, or providing adult leadership for groups like scouting, 4-H, FFA, YMCA.)

8. Participate in at least one Lodge event or activity for community improvement. This may be met by establishing the communication and cooperation with another community organization on a project, and assuring that your lodge is actively involved in bringing that project to completion. (Review "Ten Steps to Lodge Renewal" for ideas.)

9. Assume responsibility to conduct or arrange an education program at a regular meeting. This may be fulfilled by you personally preparing and presenting the program or by you personally arranging for an outside presenter to provide an educational program.

10. & 11. Building personal associations with other Mason's helps your Lodge build a support and information network with like minded individuals in your area. Making visitations and attending Masonic Events and Meeting allows you to get information and build relationships.
