Grand Master's Message
"Make Your Mark in Masonry"

Greetings Brethren,

Fall is the time where farmers reap the rewards of their efforts and prepare their land for the next seasons' efforts. For Iowa Masons fall is also the time where lodges reap the rewards for their efforts on behalf of their members and Iowa Masonry. The members of the Grand Lodge of Iowa will gather to conduct the business of the Grand Lodge and perform one of the obligations we made as officers of our lodges, attendance at Grand Lodge. However, if we are going for just these reasons, we are missing several of the most important parts of the Grand Lodge experience. We are missing the opportunity to share fellowship, ideas, and experiences with Brothers and their Ladies. We are missing the opportunity to learn about several topics of interest during the session, a great program is also planned for our ladies' enjoyment, and we are missing the final opportunity this year to express our pride and dedication to our Fraternity and to learn the plans and program for the next year.

All of these and a beautiful setting and facilities make great reasons to attend the Annual Session on September 14-16 at the Davenport Convention Center and Radisson Hotel.

This year has been exciting and interesting for Iowa Masonry as many myths were explored. The nearly five hundred people who gathered in Des Moines showed that Masons will attend a Masonic event in large numbers. The nearly fifty Brothers who attended the Third Degree at Reinbeck showed that Brethren will attend to support a new member's admission into their family. The Education Conference, 300th Birthday celebration and the joint wreath-laying ceremony at T.S. Parvin's gravesite in Iowa City, all demonstrated that the Masonic bodies can coordinate and work together for the good of Iowa Masonry in all its various forms. The smiles on Masons and their ladies' faces at Golf Outings, degrees, and special events like the 300th Party and Education Conference show that Masons can have fun and enjoy themselves at Masonic outings. The work at the Ritual Competition showed that Iowa Masons do care about the quality of their ritual and will dedicate their time and efforts to perfect their craft. The quality of the work by the lodges participating was rewarding and the enthusiasm of the participants bodes well for our future. Over 90% of the participants were not Masonic Instructors or District Lecturers, and the precision of the ritual and especially the footwork was outstanding. And the best thing was everyone who participated appeared to enjoy the experience and profited from the counsel they received from the Board of Custodians and their own efforts. I hope there is a large group watching their effort as the winning group presents the First Section of the Third Degree on Thursday at Grand Lodge.

All of these events have shown that Iowa Masons are "Making their Marks." My Grand Lodge Officers and I appreciate the opportunities we have been given this year to be a part of this experience. We have enjoyed the chances we've had to experience your Masonic hospitality and to be a part of your Masonic family for an evening. We appreciate the support you have provided for Grand Lodge events and programs. We appreciate the support you've provided for the Iowa Masonic Library and Museum, the Scholarship Fund, and the Masonic Youth Groups because these help preserve our heritage and build for our future. None of these can occur or operate without your support. That support does make a difference and is appreciated. We appreciate the chances we've had to share ideas and fellowship with Sister Jurisdictions, Prince Hall, Youth Groups, and Affiliated Bodies. We face the same opportunities and challenges and the sharing of ideas and fellowship is beneficial to each of us. We thank the Craft of Iowa for affording us this opportunity. We look forward to meeting each of you and giving our thanks to all of those attending the Annual Session of the Grand Lodge of Iowa in Davenport.

Fraternally and respectfully,

Clay Lodge No. 193 at Lewisburg Raises Brother Derick Jones

It was a typical hot July evening as Grand Master Ken Hurmence and 25 brothers from across the state of Iowa gathered at a one room school house in Wayne County to assist Worshipful Master Larry Williamson and the members of Clay Lodge No. 193 in Raising Brother Derick Jones to the sublime Degree of Master Mason.

Following an excellent supper of pork loin, baked beans, pasta salad, and the fixin's served at 6:30 P.M. the brothers assembled in the upper floor where the lodge was opened on the Third Degree by Worshipful Master Williamson and

Mark Williamson Installed as the Grand Master of North Dakota

On June 17, 2017 Mark Williamson was installed as Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of North Dakota. Most Worshipful Brother Mark lived and worked in Victor, Iowa for a while and shared the following thoughts with me recently. "Since our visit, I have been thinking about my time in Iowa. We had just graduated college and the company moved us to Victor. Since we were from a small town in North Dakota, we felt right at home in small town Iowa. We were able to assimilate very quickly and were soon entrenched in the community. I don't think I knew it at the time, but I believe this was a "precursor" to my seeking light in Masonry. I know it's hard to describe, but when you think about the things I learned and the helping attitudes we had as volunteer firemen, the service concept similarities are uncanny. There is also a "brotherhood" of sorts enjoyed by firemen. This coupled with the values we were instilled with as we attended church, it appears to me that it was inevitable that I become a Mason. My service has continued since I left Iowa and eventually moved back to North Dakota and at our Grand Communication in June, will be installed as the next Grand Master of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of North Dakota." Congratulations Mark and the Best of Luck on your ensuing year.

Interesting Additions to Our Collections

By Bill Kreuger

Over the course of the summer, we have had some very interesting additions to our library and museum collections. In the early part of June, Brother Mitch Conant, his wife Sharon and Mitch's cousin Kevin Koeberl donated some of their family related archival materials. Previously, in 2012, Brother Mitch had donated his mother's identification card from Germany which is dated 1943. His mother is Maria Josefa Conant, nee Koberl. This card was issued during the period of the Third Reich and it bears the symbol of "Deutsches Reich" on its cover. A reproduction of this card is currently on exhibit in our General History museum.

Maria Koberl Identification Card

Maria Conant Passport

The materials that Mitch donated in early June continue the story of his mother's life in post-War Germany and then her immigration to the United States. The first item is a personal identification card for Maria Koberl, dated 1952. This card was issued by the Federal Republic of Germany and was used by her while she continued to live there. A second item is Maria Josefa Conant's passport issued in 1955 by the Federal Republic of Germany. By this time, Maria had married Brother Mitch's father and was soon to be on her way to the United States. The passport is stamped in the back by the U.S. Department of Justice as having admitted Mrs. Conant into the United States on March 31, 1956.

While Mitch was here, he had another item from his Uncle, Josef Koberl. This was a POW post card that was sent by Josef to his family in Germany while he was in prison in Russia after World War II. According to Mitch, his family was opposed to Hitler during a period that if you were caught it might lead to being sent to a concentration camp, or worse. Mitch's Uncle was caught and he was given the choice of either going to a concentration camp or to the Eastern Front to fight against the Russians. His Uncle chose the latter and was eventually captured by the Russians and sent to a POW camp. The war in Europe ended in May 1945. For Mitch's Uncle, this was not to be, as he remained a prisoner of the Russians until well after the War ended. The POW card that Mitch's cousin Kevin donated to us is dated September 8, 1947, almost two and a half years after the War.

POW Card

Josef was eventually let out of prison and later immigrated to the United States. His son, Brother Keven Koeberl, is a Mason living in New York.

Mitch's wife, Sharon also donated several items that belonged to her grandfather, Harold H. Hoover, Sr. of Ohio. Her grandfather was also a Mason and a member of the Civil Air Patrol there. Two of the items include a 65 year membership pin from the Grand Lodge of Ohio, F. & A.M. Brother Hoover was a member of Mansfield Lodge No. 35 in Mansfield, Ohio. A second item is a photograph showing the presentation of his pin in March 2000. Brother Hoover passed away in 2002 at the age of 103. Another interesting collection of items were donated by the El-Kahir Shrine of Cedar Rapids. In mid-June, we were given a number of items that had belonged to two Imperial Potentates from Cedar Rapids, Edwin Alderman (1908-1909) and Dr. Russell Anthony (1986-1987). This collection includes medallions, ribbons, ceramics and even a scale model automobile that is actually a whiskey bottle.

One of the more interesting items that I felt a connection with almost immediately is a silver commemorative engraving presented to Brother Edwin Alderman on March 13, 1909 to mark the corner-stone laying ceremony of the Murat Shrine Temple in Indianapolis, Indiana.

It so happens that my first professional job out of graduate school was working at the Indiana State Museum, then located on Alabama Street, near the Indianapolis City Market and Market Square Arena (since torn down). I used to pass this strange looking mosque-like building almost every day to and from work. I remember that it was labeled the Murat Shrine Temple. At that point, I was not involved in Masonry and had no clear understanding of what the building was used for.

Murat Temple Engraving

Fast forward 39 years later and it feels like I have come full circle. What a coincidence to have a commemorative plate from a building that was built over 100 years ago and that I used to pass by all the time. What makes this even more intriguing is the fact that a person from Cedar Rapids, my hometown now, had a significant role in the completion of this building. What a small world!

It is hoped that many of these items will soon be placed on exhibit either in our gallery, or in one of our temporary exhibit cases in our hallway. We will try and keep you posted.

Exira Masons (Exodus 342) and Exira Lions Club working together

Members of Exodus Lodge and the Exira Lions Club have jointly hosted various events within the Exira-Elk Horn community over the past several years. They served an appreciation breakfast for the 45 plus high school students of Exira-EHK School District involved in the Leo Leadership group sponsored by the Exira Lions Club. They have been doing this appreciation breakfast the first part of May for the last three years. The high school teachers are also guests.

These groups also serve a light meal at the "Exira's National Night Out" event on August 1, 2017. There was no cost for the meal only a free will offering. The Lion's provided a sandwich and chips while Exodus Lodge served homemade desserts. They raised $425 which they donated to the local fireman's group to help cover costs incurred from recent devastating fires that destroyed four business buildings on Exira's Main Street.

The two groups along with the above mentioned Leo Youth Club are currently planning a major benefit on October 15 for Tori's Angels Foundation. Tori's Angels is a group that raises funds to support the families of children who have life threatening conditions. Tori's Angels is located in Panora, Iowa.
