Grand Master's Message
"Make Your Mark in Masonry"

Greetings Brethren,

In 1965 the Byrds had a hit with the song "Turn, Turn, Turn" which used the words of Ecclesiastes 3:1,

"To everything there is a season." It is strange that we who live in the Midwest and are familiar with the cyclical nature of the seasons forget about that aspect in other parts of our lives. The late forties and the early fifties were the summer of Masonry and the numbers swelled. But, summer is naturally followed by fall and winter and so the next years have not been positive for Masonry or other Fraternal organizations. That does not mean people didn't try to change the trend but rather that the conditions were not right and the ground not fertile, and every farmer knows that crops will not grow under those circumstances. The same occurred with fraternities. We Baby Boomers were not joiners and Fraternal, veteran, and religious organizations have suffered. But, as said in another song "times, they are a-changing." As people have become more isolated in modern society, and less communication is taking place, young people are seeking someplace where they can experience a sense of belonging and family, and to be part of a group that stands for something positive. That is what Masonry is all about. This is the opportunity to start building for the next three hundred years, and we are the ones who can start building with our efforts. This is our opportunity to make a difference by "Making our Marks."

For nine months my officers and I have been traveling across the state encouraging Masons to Make their Marks in Masonry by doing what we have been doing: Being proud of our Masonic affiliation and heritage; Enjoying our Masonic experiences and meetings, Being lifetime seekers of light by learning something at every meeting, and Being examples of what Masonry teaches because we are people's vision of Masonry. This effort is not forgetting about recruiting, retention, and ritual because they are necessary for us to succeed but is trying to create a mindset that allows them to occur. We have encouraged Masons to have a more positive image of ourselves and our Fraternity. My officers and our ladies have provided complete support for our efforts and have been incredibly giving of their time, talents, and energy, all of which have been deeply appreciated by our brethren and by me. What we have appreciated most though is that attendance has been very good at our events and that brethren have been receptive to our message. That reception has made our efforts a pleasure as well as a labor of love.

Numerous events have been held to further this belief and message. Ten Grand Master's Area Meetings were held throughout the state. The crowds were good and the response very positive. Efforts have also been made to encourage cooperation with affiliated bodies. Visits with the members of the Amaranth in Davenport and Shrine in Des Moines allowed initial opportunities to share our message and learn from their messages. The Grand Lodge Officers and the Order of Eastern Star Officers enjoyed a brunch and sharing of plans together at Prairie Meadows on March 5. On April 1 the Grand Lodge and the York Rite Bodies co-hosted a Masonic Education Conference. This well-attended program featured a variety of speakers and topics with both a Masonic and a York Rite emphasis. Two highlights were Moises Gomez and Clifton Truman Daniels. Gomez, who worked at the New Jersey Port Authority and was on site on 9/11, spoke and provided pictures documenting the event and its aftermath. The key note speaker was Clinton Truman Daniels, the grandson of President Harry Truman. President Truman also carried the title of Past Grand Master of Missouri. Mr. Daniels discussed his grandfather's life and the renovation of the White House that occurred during his administration. That renovation resulted in Iowa receiving the foundation stones with Masons marks on them.

Three other major events will fill out the Grand Lodge calendar. On June 24 another shared event will focus on a very important event in Masonic history, the 300th anniversary of the founding of the Grand Lodge of England. The Grand Lodge and the Scottish Rite are joining for this celebration which will open with an Opening of Grand Lodge, placing items in a time capsule to commemorate the event, presentation of a British Past Master's Degree for Past Masters and Masters of lodges, a presentation on British Masonry by a British Mason who has spoken all over Europe about British Masonry, a High Tea for the ladies, a fine meal and table lodge featuring several toasts. All of this will be presented for $35 and the first three hundred will receive a medal created especially for this event. Over two hundred forty invitations have already been received. Don't miss this once in a lifetime event for Iowa Masonry.

On July 21, the Grand Master's Golf Outing will be held at the Terrace Hills Golf Course in Altoona. This day will provide an opportunity for Masons and their ladies to enjoy a day at the golf course while helping raise money for two Masonic charities: the Scholarship and Iowa Masonic Library and Museum Building Endowment Funds. This day promises fun and fellowship for all those that attend. The final event culminating the Grand Lodge Year will be the Grand Lodge Session which will be held at the spacious Davenport Convention Center with the Radisson Hotel in Davenport as the host hotel. Both of these facilities will provide an excellent setting for the meeting. Several interesting speakers are scheduled for the event. If you are the Master or a Warden of your lodge, this is your chance to make a difference. This is another chance to "Make your Mark" in Iowa Masonry. Don't miss out! Fraternaly and respectfully,

Kenneth A. Hurmence

Greetings Ladies,

Hello from the Grand Master and myself. We want to invite all of you to join us at the 173rd Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of Iowa at the Radisson Quad City Plaza Hotel in Davenport on September 14, 15, and 16.

We have several programs lined up for the Ladies, including a visit to the Isabel Bloom Studio in Davenport. I look forward to seeing all of you and having a chance to greet each of you. I hope you will all enjoy your time in Davenport and have a chance to renew old acquaintances and meet new ones.

I want to encourage all of you ladies to help make our annual Craft and Bake Sale a big success again with your contributions. We will also be holding a Silent Auction again this year and have several unique items lined up for all to bid on. If anyone has something they would like to include in the Silent Auction, please let us know or notify the Grand Lodge office. We hope all of our Masons and their ladies will check out the items on the Silent Auction and the Craft and Bake Sale. Proceeds from both will go toward our ladies' project this year, the Iowa Masonic Library and Museum Building and Endowment Fund.

Ken and I have enjoyed our travels across the state of Iowa and beyond. We want to thank everyone along the way for your hospitality and your support of the Grand Master's program this year. It has been a wonderful experience for us and thank you for this opportunity to serve you.

They cooked omelets, served sausage and toast, provided drinks, cleared and reset tables, and generally assisted as a crowd of nearly 3000 were served from 7:00 AM until Noon. It was a very successful and rewarding event that was enjoyed by all.

Unity Lodge No. 212 Temple Rededication Ceremony Woodburn, Iowa

Grand Master Kenneth A. Hurmence and the Grand Lodge Officers were invited to Woodburn to conduct a Temple Dedication Ceremony for Unity Lodge No. 212.

Grand Secretary Craig L. Davis and Junior Grand Steward William R. Dayton led a practice for the Ceremony at 9:00 A.M. Worshipful Brother Donald White gave the invitation to Grand Master Hurmence to rededicate the Lodge and also gave a History of Unity Lodge No. 212. Grand Master Hurmence and the Grand Lodge Officers conducted the Temple Rededication Ceremony in due and ancient form. Junior Grand Deacon Richard J. Hofmeyer gave the tribute to public education "School Book Lecture".

Dennis Loughry was Orator and spoke about an article he found in The Osceola Democrat from September 17, 1908. Headline Read "Team Runs Away Driver Uninjured". Sunday at noon a team hitched to a wagon containing a scissor grinders outfit, a sort of house on wheels used by Mr. Joe Adams in traveling all over the country, started from the south side of the square and running hard went east to the southeast corner where they turned so abruptly that one of the horses was thrown on its knees and received a severe wound on each fore leg and finally with the assistance of some men who happened on the scene the team came to a stop. Mr. Will Coon was in the rig at the time but was not hurt. It was a lucky turn that saved both wagon and driver from serious injury. Some other news from that day: Miss Ruth Scott spent Saturday and Sunday in Osceola with her mother. Freeman Ruble is having a cement cave build. His brother Lawrence is doing the work.

After the ceremony everyone enjoyed a nice luncheon.

Brother Matthew Beliel Raised

Paul Revere Lodge No. 638 in Lucas hosted a Third Degree Reception on April 26, 2017, where Brother Matthew Beliel was raised to the Sublime Degree of a Master Mason. Kevin C. Goben was in the East for the conferral of the First Section and Drew Mathias was Senior Deacon.

Grand Master Kenneth A. Hurmence was conducted to the East and accorded the Grand Honors. Grand Master Hurmence then introduced the Grand Lodge Officers. Grand Master Hurmence was in the East for the Second Section and Grand Secretary Craig L. Davis gave the Charge.

The Grand Master presented Brother Beliel with his lapel pin and a set of his own working tools. Brother Beliel thanked everyone for being there and being part of his degree work. Grand Master Hurmence talked about his program and upcoming upcoming events at the Grand Lodge of Iowa. The Grand Lodge Officers closed the Lodge with Deputy Grand Master John A. "Jack" Cook in the East.

New Lighting Installed in Lower Stack Level of the Iowa Masonic Library

By Bill Kreuger

Thanks to the generosity of the Iowa Masonic Library and Museum Building Endowment Fund (IMLMBEF) we now have new lighting in the lower stack level of the Iowa Masonic Library where the non-Masonic periodicals are housed. This new energy efficient LED lighting provides the proper level of illumination making the stacks a usable portion of the library. The periodicals housed there date from the early 1800s through the 1980s and cover the full spectrum of interests.

Over the years, dating back to the original library, a portion of our non-Masonic periodicals have not been shelved correctly, or missed altogether. We are in the process of re-organizing and putting them back into their correct locations. The new lighting has made this project possible.

On behalf of the Grand Lodge of Iowa, I, as your Assistant Librarian, would like to thank those who contributed to the IMLMBEF so that this project could be accomplished!

There are other projects that also need your support. They include:

- Upgrading the lighting in both Museums and upper levels of the Library stacks
- Tuck pointing portions of the building
- Upgrading the lighting and fixtures in the restrooms.

If you know of anyone, Mason or non-Mason, who would be willing to help support any of these projects, please contact the Chairman of the IMLMBEF, Steve Riley at rileyslr@gmail.com or the Grand Lodge of Iowa at 319-365-1438.

Question: Where did the word Cowan come from?

Answer: The Oxford English Dictionary says “Derivation unknown,” and defines it as “One who builds dry stone walls [i.e. without mortar] ... applied derogatorily to one who does the work of a mason, but who has not been regularly apprenticed or bred to the trade.” The word is probably of Scottish origin, and it appears, in that sense, in a large number of Scottish Masonic documents from 1598 onwards

Golden Fleece - Roman Eagle

The legend of the Golden Fleece has been handed down from time immemorial.

Mythology tells us that the Golden Fleece was supposed by the Greeks to be hidden in a remote land far across the trackless sea. This precious fleece grew upon the back of a ram, the gift of one of their gods. The ram was constantly guarded by bulls that breathed fire and by a dragon that never slept. The promise to the Greeks was (so the fable went) that if they could find and recover the Golden Fleece and bring it to Greece, wealth and prosperity would abound in that country. The hope of redeeming that promise led to the formation of an order which embraced in its membership many of the most illustrious men of that period, who were called Argonauts from the name of the ship, Argo, on which they sailed. Tradition is replete with the daring deeds and suffering of those men in the cause in which they enlisted. The badge of the order was the symbol of a Golden Fleece.

At a later, though still ancient, period, there was formed among the Romans an order that embraced only those renowned in war. Its symbol was the Roman Eagle. Of these two orders, the object of one was worldly wealth; the object of the other was military glory. Both orders have faded from the face of the earth, as surely will perish all orders founded on sordid or vain desires.

Question: Where does the Penal Sign of the First degree originate?

Answer: It appears in several of our oldest ritual documents from 1696 onwards. In England this [and several other familiar penalties] appear to have been in use as Naval punishments, authorized by the Admiralty from C. 1451 onwards.

Junior Grand Deacon Richard J. Hofmeyer

It was a beautiful day across the state of Iowa as Masons traveled to West Union to attend a reception hosted by West Union Lodge No. 69 for Junior Grand Deacon Richard J. Hofmeyer. The social hour was hosted by members of the lodge.

The Masons then moved to the Lodge Hall following the social hour where West Union Lodge No. 69 was opened by Worshipful Master Kent P. Schuchmann. Grand and Past Grand Lodge Officers were introduced and received with Brothers Mike Root and Jim Boelman as Committeemen. Grand Master Kenneth A. Brother Hofmeyer thanked everyone for coming and recognized the brothers that had mentored him on his journey in Masonry. Worshipful Master Schuchmann shared the story of his experience early in life when he was injured and unable to work. His church assisted some and the Masons took care of the expenses for his family until he was able to get back on his feet and the effect this had upon him throughout his life. He now helps others as his means permit, and their needs require. Brother Hofmeyer then assumed the East and presided as the Grand Lodge Officers closed West Union Lodge No. 69.

The Masons then retired across the street to the 122 Food & Sprits for an excellent catered meal. Right Worshipful Brother Tex Heyer served as the Master of Ceremonies. Grand Master Hurmence introduced the Grand Lodge Officers and Past Grand Master's and their ladies in attendance. Brother Hofmeyer thanked the Grand Master for appointing him and explained how rewarding the experience of serving the Masons of Iowa has been. Grand Master Hurmence talked about Richard and thanked him for serving as Junior Grand Deacon this year. Grand Chaplain Eric Sommermeyer gave the Benediction.

Junior Grand Deacon Richard Hofmeyer Donates Books to the Grand Lodge of Iowa
By William Kreuger

At his reception as Junior Grand Deacon Brother Hofmeyer donated two books to the Iowa Masonic Library. The following is a synopsis of those books.

Conversation on Natural Philosophy, in which elements of that science are familiarly explained, and adapted to the comprehension of young pupils, by Rev. J.L. Blake—Boston, Mass.: Lincoln, Edmands & Co., 1833

This is a book written especially for younger students that covers elements of the natural world, or the physical sciences. The topics are covered in a conversational manner. They include discussions of gravity, laws of motion, astronomy, earth and air science, optics and vision. The book included 23 illustrations that help highlight the discussions in the text. Those illustrations are appended to the back of the book.

Memoirs of General La Fayette, embracing details of his public and private life, sketches of the American Revolution, the French Revolution, the down fall of Bonaparte, and the restoration of the Bourbons, by the Marquis de La Fayette—Hartford, Conn.: Barber & Robinson, 1825.

This is essentially an autobiography of the Marquis de La Fayette, who was one of the important figures in American history during the Revolutionary period. It is taken from his memoirs and papers and covers his entire life. The book was published just a year after La Fayette made his famous journey back to the United States, so is contemporary with that important event. It includes biographical sketches of important historical figures with whom La Fayette had contact, including, General Gage, Ethan Allen, Benedict Arnold, General Burgoyne, and many others.

Question: Why does the Candidate wear the cable tow while taking his Obligation? He comes of his own free will, yet the cable tow is a symbol of restraint.

Answer: With us, the cable tow serves the practical purpose of restraint. As a symbol it has several different meanings. I suggest:

1. The implicit duty of regular attendance, 'if within the length of my cable tow, as noted in another question and in the Obligation of the 3rd degree.
2. Humility, it, the frame of mind in which one enters the order.
3. Submission, to the regulations, tenets and principles of the Craft.
4. The bondage of ignorance until one sees the light, later on.
